“ I am not a member of Abe's family, but I would like to share in the family's grief of his passing. I worked with Abe on KAFB from 1965 until 1968 when Abe was an animal handler at the facility that we knew as the Goat Farm, which was a part of the Air Force Weapons Lab on the base. I was a chemist and an Airman. I remember Abe both for his cheerfulness and his kindness. Although I haven't seen him since I left the Goat Farm in December, 1968, I remember him well and think of him often. He was a good friend to a lonely Airman serving so far from home. I remember that he really knew how to handle sheep. I wish his famiy well in their time of grief.

“ One word describes how I will always remember my Uncle Abe - cheerful. Uncle Abe and Auntie Candy were a large part of my childhood. My parents made Sunday afternoon rounds to visit their relatives, and going to Bosque was the highlight of those trips. The Bacas raised herds of so many animals! And for many summers, I was invited to stay a week on the farm, feeding, cleaning, horse riding, grooming, and gorging on those fabulous mulberries. In the spring or fall there was the harvesting, and Uncle Abe showed us how to treat the animals with dignity, and how the harvest was a day-long celebration of our good fortunes. Throughout all of this, I clearly remember Uncle Abe’s infectious laughter—he truly enjoyed all the kids. John & Joey Gabaldon - San Diego, CA
