“ Grandma, it's so hard to believe you are truly gone. You will be missed more than you could have possibly known. I will miss our late night phone calls, visits at work, your laugh, your smile, and your beautiful spirit. I think back to being a kid and visiting you...playing in the pool, barbecues, Easter and Fourth of July. Feeding the animals, the sound of the train and the peacocks, and sitting on the back porch. You always had chips to snack on in the cabinet, and made everyone feel like it was their home when they visited. You were one of the most generous people I've ever known. You helped me so many times, and were always willing to do anything you could to assist someone you cared about. You kept everything just in case there was someone you knew who might be able to benefit from having it. You always tried to see the good in people, no matter what they had done.

I'm so sorry you are gone and that we didn't have more time together. I will genuinely miss you and think of you often. I am so thankful that you no longer feel pain, and that you are reunited with Grandpa Don, Grandma Singer, Grandpa Singer, and others who you had lost along the way. I miss them all dearly too, and if it's possible, please tell them hello for me and I love them.

For those of us that are left behind, we will certainly have a hard time getting over the loss. I hope you realize how much you were truly loved and how much you meant to so many people. It may be selfish to want someone back once they're gone, but it's hard to let go. I know you are resting now, and you deserve it.

I love you grandma Carla...always will, and I promise you won't be forgotten. Thank you for everything.

“ Thank you for always welcoming me into your home and into your heart. I have nothing but wonderful memories of time spent with your family, and though I'm heartbroken knowing you're gone I'm also so very blessed to have been part of your life. Mrs. Hale--thank you for giving me the best friend I've ever had, for putting up with all of our laughter and silliness, and letting us commandeer your living room to watch John Hughes movies over and over again. I love you, Mrs. Hale, and wish you beauty and peace in Heaven. --Dianna
