“ Of course Carol being a first cousin, our mother's sisters, we visited every holiday and other times. Her next door neighbor owned a little grocery store and Carol would take me in there once in a while. Well he called her Butch because she had short hair and was tall and skinny and he called me Sputnik, because I would always buy penny candy gum balls that looked like Satellites. They were jawbreakers and were blue and sugar coated. She grew into a beautiful woman. I also remember when she got a Mustang car with a racing stripe on it. Very classy car. Even though there was a 10 year difference in age we still had some fun.
