“ Adrienne, Jacob, Lucas, Paris, Lexy, Ms. Jaramillo, Granny Sue, Dale, brothers, sisters and the rest of the family,

There are no right words, nothing can soothe your broken hearts, but with God all things are possible.

I am so sorry for the pain each of you is having to endure. Praise the Lord for the good times and ask Him for strength to endure this horrible loss.

Never forget the footprints in the sand are His while He carries you as long as you need Him to.

Clayton is in Heaven with his dad, roping in God's rodeo. Eternal rest and peace are finally Clayton's.

*To you all, Bernice is so right...with God all things are possible! What a gift that is...Jacob and Luke, your dad left you quite a legacy...he was so well known and loved. That hole is waiting for y'all to fill it. I've never seen a man so adept at operating equipment....I suspect you have that gift too. He made people feel good just by stopping and giving a little of his time and always that wonderful smile! He could orchestrate a day in the field that was productive (even through breakdowns) and made every person working feel so very valuable, which they were but he had that specialness to convey it. You knew him well...pull that up in yourselves and develop it. You'll be passing that on to your girls and we won't be missing your dad, we'll be grateful for knowing you two. You'll bless your mom and glorify our Lord through what you make of your dad's teaching and the name Clayton Jaramillo will be said with such big grins as Clarence Jaramillo...I've heard much about him 😊
God bless your family. Love y'all! Sana Handley*
