

Cyndi Lee Edmondson

June 1, 2010

Cyndi Lee Edmondson, age 54, a resident of Veguita, New Mexico passed away on Tuesday, May 25, 2010. She loved the outdoors and the mountains and enjoyed camping and fishing in the Washington area with her husband, Audie. Cyndi had a bubbly personality and everyone she met loved her. She had a way of making everyone feel loved and always brightened their day. Cyndi was an artist and worked with many different types of mediums. She and Audie made black powder bags out of Elk and Buckskin and would sell their art at pow wows and Indian art and artifact shows. Cyndi and Audie had been working on their dream home in Veguita and Audie and his family and friends will complete their home in honor and in memory of Cyndi. She was loved by many and will be dearly missed by all who knew and loved her.~ She was preceded in death by her father, Norman Chestnut. Cyndi is survived by her loving husband of seven years, Audie Edmondson; two sons, Graham and Ben; mother, Verna Shafer; sister, Connie Gilbert and husband, Butch; special friends, Linda Figoni and Cody Kenney; and her beloved pets, Slide and Ruby Doo. A Memorial Service will be held at a later date.
