I remember the summer morning going horse back riding with Loretta and Darlene and their friend who had an Arabian mare that was so big that three of the girls could ride it at one time. And the time we had to chase the gray mare that ran away with Rita. Our dad and Edwin had to catch it in the car.

My sister Darlene and I shared ideas and themes on a children's two part book she spent two years writing. It was exciting and so much fun to be a part of. I would never consider myself to be a poet, but a poem has come to mind and into my heart. I would like to share it and dedicate it to her. BROTHERS, SISTERS, FAMILY, Thru all our tears, Thru all our fears, That time and distance has played a part in each of our lives, One thing has stayed the same, That we have, each of us, loved one another in each our own ways, That love will follow us into eternity, where it shall forever remain.
