“ Hi Ed,
I wish you were here yesterday to attend your Great Nieces 1st Birthday Party. I know you would have loved to have met her and seen your niece being a mom. Your favorite saying would have been "Better you than me". I miss you so much.

“ Missing you my friend. We talked or texted virtually every day. It hasn't been the same. Wound up homeless a year after you passed. I also found out another long time friend of mine passed just before you did. I'm glad I didn't find out then. I don't think I could have taken it. Miss you my friend.

*“ Hi Ed,
Miss you a lot. Miss talking to you more and more each day since you have been gone.. You would be so proud of your niece. She has turned into such a great young woman. It is not fair you had to leave us too early. I hope you know that you are loved and missed.
By the way happy late birthday.*

“ I just signed onto FB and it said you poked me. How strange I would get that today. One year ago today, I found out you were gone and cried my eyes out. RIP my dear friend.

“ I just found out a few minutes ago from a mutual friend, Robert Schafer. I simply assumed you had been busy or got lost in my stupid FB timeline from all the useless idiotic postings of people, For this I am truly sorry my Friend. You taught me to love Dungeons and Dragons in 1983, How awesome Motorhead and REAL Metal was the year later. How to truly appreciate "The Young Ones" TV show, Commodore was an awesome computer (first computers we cheated games on). I will now concede to you that Doritos are indeed one of the 4 food groups. When I get back to Schenectady I promise to you that I will drink Beer at The Sawmill, Union Inn and all the other places we we wasted far too much time and money at. Will also spend an afternoon at The Studio of Bridge and Games and see who is still around from the 80's and 90's. Don't tell anyone but, I still have all my D&D stuff..BOXES and BOXES of it hahaha. Goodbye my Friend, you were definitely a One of a Kind.
