“ *Frank's smile, his laugh and his voice--so distinct and full of life--I can picture and hear them now.
Frank was such a good friend to my dad Tomas Torres and was with him daily to help him build the home which my mother still lives in today. He was an excellent craftsman and a strong individual. The two of them were best of friends and they were always laughing and joking while they worked. Later in life when I started work for the railroad Frank was there to help me and guide with a friendly and familiar voice -- always the best of advice. Frank Jr., Rosemarie, and John I offer my condolences and share with you that I will miss your dad like a family member. I pray that Frank and Tomas Torres are laughing together again in heaven today. God bless.*
