“ Today is the day. Your friends and family mourn your death. We are very sorry for the struggles you dealt with. We understand, this was your way to be free. You can now rest easy and fly high on those mountains. We wish we were able to say goodbye and show our respects today but we know you are with us at Rutilio's. We have a table for you always. We still wish you come walking through those doors and say it was just a joke. You loved to joke around with us all the time. 😞 Until we meet again. Rest easy our friend. “ Deepest condolences to the extended Zamora Family. I meet Jerred years ago when he began his employment at the Los Lunas Hospital & Training School through my Uncle Ray García who was also employed there. We want to thank Jerred for always being a good friend to Uncle Ray. Ray always had kind words to say about Jarred and about their adventures fishing or practicing their Archery Skills. Their friendship lasted over 20 years I believe. Ray is heartbroken as we all are to hear of his passing. May God Bless Jared Zamora.

“ Jay Z Sometimes in life I feel like we don't appreciate the good people that we have here with us. We spend so much time running this race in life that we don't focus on the smiling face of the person we think we will catch up with later. We take those days for granted and we never get those days back. Jerred how I wish that you knew how much you meant to all of us. By the looks of this page you had a huge impact on lots of people's lives, whether they were family or friends. We are all going to miss you and your sense of humor so much. I wish you were here to see and feel the love of all these people. I hope you're at peace. You will forever be missed. We love you. Thank you for all the memories, until we meet again. Especially your jokes, and your laughs. It was a short time but thank you for teaching me how to bale and showing Isaiah to fish and to become a farmer. For ray he is gonna miss you so darn much. He was looking forward to farming with you, and going hunting and going to the mountains together. You touched so many lives Jerred. Especially ours. Ray and i are gonna miss eating breakfast with you on the weekends. We are gonna miss your everyday calls. Especially making fun of rays blinking.
