“ It's never easy to lose a loved one, and it hurts when people say that they know what your going through when they have never walked down the same road your walking down. I'm not one who goes to church every Sunday but I know there's a God who watches over us everyday. I can't imagine what your going through and all I know is your family been through enough and I pray that things do start looking up for you little Phil and the rest of your family. Your pops knows how to get a hold of me I don't know what eles to say bro but take one day at a time and may peace be with you through your struggles. Amor chip
