My heart was heavy today to hear about my beautiful Lorraine. We met at SWA and worked together for so long. We had been wanting to get together when she would come visit her sister in Los Lunas. I will forever miss you Lorraine. Rest in peace and know you are loved.

“ My heart is heavy right now. We met in middle school and became good friends. Life took us both in different directions but social media made it possible to reconnect after many years. You were always so kind and just a beautiful soul. I don't know how you left us so soon. We had just chatted recently about getting together when I visited Albuquerque this spring. You just never know when it will be a last good bye. May your loved ones be blanketed by peace and during their grieving always know God is in control. I love you sister friend.
