“ My brother was one of the most giving people I have ever met in my life. He was one of those guys that when you met him you knew there was something special about him. Even just his smile was unique because it was so genuine. He was not a fake person he was genuine and if he said he was going to do something he did it. When I needed help I will call him and he never would ask me what happened or why or anything like that he would just help me. There's not many people like that anymore. He loved his family so much. I will truly miss him.
