“ My dearest sister Red. When I first met you I was so unsure of my world. You greeted me with the biggest smile. Which provided me with hope, and a sense of safety. Every step of the way even when I made choices that was clearly the wrong ones. You didn't provide judgement. You smiled and gave me the biggest hug! You will always be in my heart! I will miss those smiles. But I know you are watching over us! May you rest in peace.. you will missed. I know I will see you one day.

“ When we first met.

On my birthday July 27 2002, vacationing in Carlsbad with my daughter. Went to hotel restaurant/bar to have a celebratory adult beverage. Red came and sat beside me with her beautiful smile. I asked if she would like to help me celebrate and offered a beverage. She politely accepted. Melchor came and I offered the same. We had a nice conversation and departed our ways.

The next day we came across each other at the nature reserve. We exchanged contact information.

A week later returning home, we met for beverages. They were kind enough to meet near the hotel in Albuquerque my daughter and I were staying at. I thought that was very "cool" that they went out of their way to see me again and meet my beautiful daughter.

They also extended their hospitality and invited me to their home the next time I was in the neighborhood.

On my golfing outings in NM I did just that.

Watching her lovely daughter Alicia grow up. Being introduced to "the family". Observing the many creative construction projects Melchor does

What I will always remember is the 3 rare traits that were given freely to me.

ACCEPTANCE, BELONGING, AND CAREING. These were given to me freely.

i have thought about you everyday since we first met. I THANK YOU RED for your unconditional love!!! i will see you again. I LOVE YOU!! You beautiful soul.

To the Family. I know there is nothing I can say or do in your time of grief. May these words provide comfort in time. Just know she graduated from this planet knowing that you will be fine in time. Her love for you, as your love for her, is endless and timeless. She is preparing a place for when it is your time to reunite.

Your friend,
