“ Robert was good man and friend. I was sad to find out the news upon my return to work. He always gave me wise words of encouragement and made me want to walk into work each and everyday. His outlook and positivity was always genuine and sincere. I wish I could give him the same but he was truly a word wizard. My condolences to the family and know that he will live on through those he inspired.

“ My friend, I am going to miss our long conversations about our favorite fictional universes. I had not yet heard your thoughts on season 3 of the Mandalorian. I was curious if you were watching Secret Invasion. I was intending to message you about it when I got the news. You were a good man. I am honored that I was able to know you. It was wonderful to talk science fiction with someone as knowledgeable as you.

“ You were the best older brother. Thank you for raising me, protecting me, teaching me, believing in me, being a coach in so many ways. You always could make me laugh too. We had the same sense of humor. You showed me so many funny movies and just plain good movies. So much of the person I am today is because of you. You raised me on good music, pop culture, and made learning fun. You would baby sit, give me rides to friends' houses, support me at my piano and dance recitals. I hope you are so happy Brother wherever you are. You had such a big imagination. I love you so much.
