“ My Tia was a great woman, mother, daughter, sister, and auntie. Her soul had the power to light up and warm any room she entered.

Su sonrisa era un sol, una luz, y una amor...she danced like no one was watching, and the last time I saw her I had the distinct honor of dancing with her. As we laughed spinning around to "La Sinora Dinamita" sweat glistening from our foreheads, huffing and puffing from leaving our souls on the dance floor, we both looked at one another and said " Ila estamos viejos" and laughed.

I told her how much I loved her and how proud she always made me for wearing the gold alacran I gave her a long time ago. She had it on and i always saw her wearing it proud, representing Santa Maria de Oro.

I'm glad god granted me opportunities in life to tell her she was my favorite aunt!!! that every moment I got I gave her that extra tight hug and kiss, that says I love you right back! I'm grateful I grew up as a child along her side and my little cousins.

Tengo un chingo de Bonitos recuerdos con Ella que hoy llena este vacío que tengo dentro de mi...

Una luz en este mundo se apago, Pero jamas....jamas me olvidare el calor que me dio su luz Tia...<3

La adoro hoy, mañana, y para siempre...una dia bailaremos con nuestras alas por los cielos sin que se cansen nuestros cuerpos.

“ Lo que mas recuerdo y nunca olvidare de mi tia es su sonrisa, su risa, y sus abrazos fuertes. En cuanto conectava su mirada con la de uno aparecía esa sonrisa contagiosa, luego se acercaba, preguntaba "como estas, hija" seguido por un fuerte abrasso y un beso. Su riza, ni hablar... todavía escucho sus carcajadas que contajaban a quien estuviera... Nunca de los nunca te olvidare. Te quise, te quiero y siempre, siempre te querer. Tu sobrina, Elizabeth Dominguez
