“ Dear Valerie,

As I sit here writing to you, I am overwhelmed with a profound sense of sorrow and longing. I know that these words will never reach you in the physical world, but I hope that wherever you are, you can feel the love and tenderness that we carry.

Your departure from this world has left an indelible mark on all our lives.

I remember the first time I met you. You were just a little girl, full of life and curiosity, and I was stepping into a world that was both familiar and unknown. I was not your mother, but I wanted so much to be a source of love and support for you. Over time, I watched you grow into a young woman .

We may not have shared the bond of blood, but I tried to be a good stepmother to you!!

Even though our time together was cut short, I cherish every moment that we shared. Your laughter, your tears, your dreams, and your fears I find solace in the memories we made.

I hope that wherever you are, you are at peace. I hope that you are surrounded by love and light.

You will always be remembered, always be loved, and always be a part of our family. And though our hearts ache with the pain of your absence, we will continue to celebrate your life, to honor your memory, and to keep you alive in our hearts.

*Rest in peace, my stepdaughter
Always, Mary Garcia*

“ Dear Valarie,
I am struggling to come to terms with your passing and my heart hurts for you. Our relationship was complicated and difficult but that does not diminish the love I had for you as my daughter. I regret that we were not able to reconcile and repair our relationship before it was too late. I will always remember the good times that we shared and the moments of joy and laughter we experienced together. I wish we could have had more of those memories and we could have found a way to overcome the challenges that divided us. Even though we were not close in recent years, I want you to know that I love you and I will always miss you. It's hard to accept that I will never see you again, never hear your voice, or never feel your embrace again. I hope that you are at peace now my daughter, you will always be in my thoughts and I will always cherish the memories of our time together. Rest in peace, my daughter, you will always be in my heart.

Love Always,
Your Dad

“ Val, I will forever love and miss you. You were a great friend and a wonderful person. You were taken from this world too soon as all of the good ones are. Besides being boy moms we also had our Steelers love in common. I will forever keep up with your beautiful boys and you will be with Lucas and I for every game. I won't say goodbye, rather see you later. Watch over us all. Love you girl.

“ You made me an Auntie for the first time and I was so thrilled that we shared the same middle name. I used to sing to you Time after Time by Cindy Lauper over and over as I rocked you in the rocking chair when you were a baby. Things happen and life gets busy but I never stopped checking in on you and your family through Facebook. I was so proud of the mama you became and the amazing job you did raising your boys. I love you, Valarie Monique. Give Auntie Tawnia, Grandma and Nana a big hug from all of us down here.

“ Offering my deepest thoughts and condolence to Valaries family, and I'm reminded of when we were both 5 years old and we were best friends. We were in school together all the way up to our senior graduation. We both had kids in KGE as well. Fly high beautiful friend.
